GREETINGS 1946

THAT'S ME

FOREWORD

Here is Iris time again. To our old customers, we thank you for your orders in the past. Many of you who order rhizomes every year, and make it possible for us to issue this list and go forward. Growing and hybridizing fine Iris and Gladiolus is my hobby and is self supporting. My vocation is mechanical engineering. But all of my spare time is spent in the Iris and Glad fields, trying out new varieties and methods of growing them better. Doing a little hybridizing and playing with our new creations.

Occasionally we find a seedling that is outstanding. Only the best of these are given a rigid test for several years before giving them a name and introducing them to the public. Many of our visitors admire some of our seedlings more than the older named varieties. They must be good before we give them a name, as there are too many poor named varieties on the market already.

Each year we try out several of the new named varieties introduced by others and only a few of them come up to our expectations. If they are not good we do not offer them to you.

We have over 300 named varieties in our gardens. Every plant offered in this list is grown here on our 73-acre farm on the Ellenwood Road, 14 miles southeast of the center of Atlanta, and we guarantee every one to be strong, healthy rhizomes and true to name. In our list we have tried to describe each one in a very few words as truthfully as we know how, leaving out a lot of big words that are meaningless, and we don't have a big catalog full of beautiful colored pictures which are very often misleading.

From the many reports of our customers we believe our Iris rhizomes are equal to those of any grower anywhere. A trial will convince you. Good Iris is still scarce. Many growers have increased their prices.

As stocks of our newer ones have increased we have reduced the prices to where every Iris lover can afford them. Best time to plant Iris is in the fall. We plant Iris from September 1st to December 1st with very good results.

In the North it might be better to plant before October 15th.

Wishing you much pleasure and satisfaction with your Iris the coming season we are

Sincerely yours,
J. A. FORD

grower and hybridizer

OUR OWN ORIGINATIONS

1946 ELLENWOOD. Parentage Trails End crossed with Black Wings. Early mid season 30" high. Medium purple with white veining and solid deep purple in center of falls. Prolific bloomer, admired by everyone who saw it. Many visitors who saw it suggested that we name it "Purple Heart," but owing to a conflict in names we called it Ellenwood. Pretty difficult to find a name for a new Iris when there are already ten thousand named varieties in circulation. We have a fine stock of this unusual Iris and are introducing it at the unusual low price$1.50

1945 Georgia Gold, introduced last year as Dixie Gold but owing to another Iris having that name we were forced to change the name of ours. Parentage, Southland crossed with Golden Hind. Georgia Gold habits much like its pollen parent but a more profuse and more dependable bloomer. Intermediate size. Early deep yellow. Admired by all our visitors 1.50

In 1947 we will introduce 3 new ones. "Etta Bell," a seedling from Wabash. "Queen Ett," a seedling from Shiningwaters, and "Thanksgiving," a new giant Fall bloomer. I know you will like all of them.

LILIES

"Harrisi," known to some as the Bermuda Easter Lily, but it is an improved long trumpet pure white lily. Will bloom for Easter when grown under glass but perfectly hardy out doors, 6 to 15 blooms 6" long on one stalk. Large bulbs sure to bloom in spring after planted in fall, each$.50

Jumbo bulbs will produce 2 or more stalks, each75

Regal Lilies, queen of the garden, large white trumpet flowers having pink ribs on outside and golden yellow throat, 12 to 25 blooms on one stalk 48" high, very fragrant and very hardy. Large bulbs, each50
